Excerpt: .Now, dear friends, I commend ye all to God; go your way and set me afloat; I must throw myself on God's grace. Tis time ye save life and limb by flight, for it draweth near to morning. So with many tears and lamentations they set him afloat on the wild sea; never was there a sadder parting! He who has won and lost a faithful friend will know how deep was Kurwenal's sorrow; yet, though his heart was heavy, he must needs sail homeward even as his lord bade him. And Tristan was left all alone, floating hither and thither till the morning light; and when the day broke and the men of Dublin saw the rudderless boat tossing on the waves they bid men put out from the haven and see what it might be. When they drew near there...
