National Bioethics Advisory Commission, 1997 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)38880837 Subject: Bioethics. Excerpt: . . . publication of Joshua Lederbergs 1966 article on cloning in the American Naturalist (Lederberg, 1966). Nevertheless, the impact of these most recent developments on our national psyche has been quite remarkable. Some commentators have suggested that the furor aroused by the new possibility for cloning is out of proportion to most of the ethical, legal, and moral issues it raises, since these same issues have been raised by previous developments and are simply emerging again in a novel and striking form. Nevertheless, it is important to acknowledge that the possibilities raised by this new technique certainly would be unprecedented and that some would consider its use to be a truly radical step. This type of cloning would involve three novel developments: the replacement of sexual procreation with asexual replication of an existing set of genes; the ability to predetermine the genes of a child; and the ability to create many genetically identical offspring. Some scientists were surprised that the technical barriers of cell...
