The heater is shown in Fig. 6, giving a bottom view without the sliding door in front, and with boards one foot wide nailed on the top through the zinc. Fig. 7 gives a top view of the same after strips two inches wide have been fitted in at each end of the zinc to make a level surface all around the edge. Next nail strips, also two inches wide, all around the edge, except at a, which is an opening one and one-half inches wide to admit fresh air; b is a strip ten inches long nailed on to conduct the fresh air to the zinc. Now if this is covered with matched boards there will be a chamber two inches deep over the zinc and one inch elsewhere. Bore a hole in the center for a pipe three inches long and one and one-eighth inches in diameter. Around this pipe and on this floor the chicks keep warm and sleep under a cover, also made of matched boards, two inches smaller every way than the floor. This cover has four round legs which go through holes and raise and lower by means of nails, used as pegs in stay pieces which hold the matched boards together. Around the edge of the cover, lack carpet or blanket cut in slits every four inches so...
